Corporate Event Security

The first line in protection and image

In many circumstances the first point of contact at your event is with a member of the security team. As such, that team must be an effective ambassador for your company or event and be able to confidently and professional manage any situation that arises.

Mercia Securities has provided security and steward services for exhibitions & shows, concerts & festivals, sporting events, product launches, private parties and corporate functions. We can supply any number of fully SIA licensed staff, all highly trained, to provide a safe environment and an enjoyable experience.

We supply:

- Stewards

Special events require special security and Mercia work hard to ensure your event is safe and secure.

Whether it is an annual meetings, conference, product launch or other type of corporate events, Mercia Security can help. We conduct advanced risk assessments, providing a team of experienced asset protection experts, developing a contingency plan, liaising with law enforcement and emergency service providers, offering bomb threat detection services, and supplying fully trained uniformed and plain clothes security personnel.

We offer SIA licensed front or back-of-house staff plus specialist teams from dog handlers to search teams to deal with your primary concerns.

We provide security personnel across a range of sites – from venues to construction sites, offices to residential complexes. We support our event activities with security personnel to both protect property, people and/or to supervise crowd movement and access.

Our staff are selected and trained to perform tasks specific to your needs. We recognise the difference between the skills needed to sympathetically, but effectively man an event, versus those needed to secure a warehouse through the night and we always supply staff appropriate to your needs drawn from our pool of licensed professionals.

We offer you:

- Excellent customer service.
- Thorough planning, monitoring and reporting.
- A quality and professional service from planning to supervision to manning by SIA licensed team members.
- A thorough support infrastructure to cover all eventualities, coupled with effective communication to support to you and your team.
